

External Possession in Wubuy

Kate Horrack, University of New England

This paper outlines external possession in Wubuy, a polysynthetic language from south-east Arnhem Land, and the ways in which it interacts with other grammatical phenomena, such as noun incorporation and verbal agreement. In addition to a typological consideration of the Wubuy data, a potential LFG analysis will be presented, which will build upon earlier LFG work on external possession (e.g. Schrock 2007, Lødrup 2009), noun incorporation (e.g. Nordlinger and Sadler 2008) and constructive case (e.g. Nordlinger 1998).
